If you think back, to promote It's Showtime's new web shop and first big event of the year, It's Showtime teamed up with LiverKick.com to give away a whole slew of awesome merchandise. Well, we are happy to tell you that It's Showtime's web shop has been doing well, and to celebrate both doing well and It's Showtime's awesome March, including two big shows, they have a few special offers for the rest of the month.

First, if you live in the Netherlands, you get free shipping for the month of March. If you don't live in the Netherlands, you get an automatic 4.95 Euro discount on shipping, or just about $7 U.S. For the sometimes lofty shipping prices to the United States, this is an incredibly welcome discount. If you live outside of the Netherlands and have been teetering on purchasing from It's Showtime but haven't due to shipping prices, the time is now to take advantage of this.

On top of that, the nice folks who run the It's Showtime web shop have decided to give us a special code for you to enter to toss in a free keychain, wallet or lanyard for free. So place an order with It's Showtime, and enter the following code and not only will you see a shipping discount but get a free gift as well.

The code: KSF3103

So go for broke, discounted or free shipping if you are in the Netherlands and a free gift from LiverKick.com and It's Showtime.
