SuperKombat is coming back with an event on October 20 after their successful foray into Varna, Bulgaria on July 7. This time they'll be back in their home country, in Arad, Romania.

The last SuperKombat WGP qualification tournament of the year takes place on this card and the tournament fighters are Steve Banks from the USA, Fikri Ameziane of Morocco/Holland, Goran Radonjic of Montenegro and Roman Kleibl of Czech Republic. The reserve fight is Razvan Ghita of Romania vs. Dmitry Bezus from Ukraine.

Sebastian Ciobanu will fight Dzevad Poturak in the main event, with the winner getting a wild card spot for the SuperKombat Final Elimination on November 10, the same place where the winner of the tournament will be qualifying to.

SuperKombat star Andrei Stoica returns and takes on Toni Milanovic at a weight of -95kg while Alexandru Lungu faces Deutsch Pu'u in one of the biggest (literally) SuperKombat fights ever.

The event will be held in the Galleria Mall (pictured) in Arad, Romania and this si the second time that SuperKombat will have held an event in a mall. Here's what Eduard Irimia had to say about that: "I chose this location because it provides very good conditions."
